Economic Update

Capital Gains Tax to be Implemented on Public Equities for Local Investors starting 2022

The government announced its plan to start from January 1st, 2022 implementing a 10% capital gains tax on public equities, while canceling the 0.125% stamp duty tax for local resident investors. On the other hand, foreign investors will be exempted from the capital gains tax yet will continue paying stamp duty tax at 0.125% for each transaction.

MPC Maintains Overnight Deposit and Lending Rates

The CBE maintained overnight deposit and lending rates stable at 8.25% and 9.25% respectively for the sixth consecutive meeting yet post 10.5% cuts over the period February 2018 to November 2020. We believe that with global inflationary pressures and the government need to constantly push for price adjustments, there will be no change in interest rates for the remaining period of 2021.

Egypt Raises USD3 in Eurobond Issuance

Egypt raised USD3 billion from its Eurobond issuance that was covered 3 times. The sale included USD1.125 billion 6-year note at a yield of 5.8%, USD1.125 billion 12-year notes at yield of 7.3%, and USD0.75 billion 30-year notes at yield of 8.75%.

Bank's Net Foreign Assets Liability Deepens further into USD4.4 Billion Liability

The CBE announced that net foreign assets of local Egyptian banks went further into the red registering USD4.4 billion net liability position compared to USD1.6 billion in July, and a net asset position of USD1.7 billion in June. This implies USD6.2 billion drop in two months. We believe that drop was due to widening current account deficit due to rising import pressure forcing banks to use some of its assets to fund FX obligations.

Foreign Reserves Inch Upwards to USD40.67 Billion

The CBE announced that Egypt's foreign reserves inched upwards to USD40.83 billion in September 2021 up from USD40.67 billion in August 2021 implying a stable import coverage ratio of 7.2 months.

Inflation Increases to 6.6% in September

Egypt's headline inflation increased to 6.6% in September up from 5.7% in August, and an average of 4.5% during FY20/21. This is the highest monthly inflation figure since April 2020, which was expected due to unfavorable base effect in food prices in August/September 2020. We believe that inflation will keep gradually picking up in light of constant rise in global commodity prices that will force producers to pass on rising input prices. We note that the CBE expects inflation to reach 7% (+/-2%) as of 4Q2022, and we expect the figure to be in line yet towards the mid to upper end.

Strategy

- The fund manager will maintain duration, in order to navigate expected volatility in the short term, while still aiming to benefit from relatively high yields in anticipation of gradual economic recovery and a continuation of an easing monetary policy in the medium to long term.
